Renee Williams, Staff Attorney
National Housing Law Project
San Francisco, CA

Wednesday, March 29, 2016
2:00 PM –3:00 PM EST

This webinar will provide an overview of HUD's rule implementing the Violence Against Women Reauthorization Act of 2013 (VAWA 2013) and other recent HUD regulations and guidance affecting the housing law protections and remedies that may be available to survivors in obtaining and maintaining safe and stable housing.

In addition to HUD's VAWA 2013 rule, topics to be covered include:

- ✓ HUD's harassment rule covering sexual harassment and harassment because of race, color, national origin, disability, religion, or familial status;
- ✓ HUD guidance on nuisance and crime-free ordinances and how these laws may violate the Fair Housing Act;
- ✓ HUD guidance on using criminal histories in making housing decisions, equal access to housing regardless of one's gender identity or sexual orientation, and protections for individuals with limited English proficiency;
- ✓ VAWA self-petitioners' eligibility for public and assisted housing; and
- ✓ Survivors' rights to access federally funded emergency services and programs and transitional housing regardless of immigration status
